Musician and Entrepreneur Raises Much Needed Donations for Operation Fuel

For the past four years, musician and entrepreneur Joe Nerney has been a supporter of Operation Fuel. And he encourages everyone to do so.

It started during the 2005 Christmas season when he decided to hold a lunchtime benefit performance in the State Office Building that houses Joe's Gift Shop, the business he runs. Nerney said he and his wife, Sue, chose Operation Fuel as the concert's beneficiary because the non-profit helps so many people throughout Connecticut with emergency energy assistance.

"No matter whom you are...you or someone you know someday may need help paying your energy bill. Many people who thought they were doing great have gotten laid off from their jobs because of the economy," explains Nerney. He said it's very easy to contribute to Operation Fuel and encourages others to support the non-profit because of their great outreach to the community.

Since the end of 2005, Nerney has helped to raise almost $2,500 for Operation Fuel through donations made during his annual Christmas concert and at his gift shop at the state office building at 165 Capitol Avenue in Hartford. His store has an Operation Fuel bank where customers can drop in spare change throughout the year. The office building is home to several state agencies including the departments of Animal Control, Administrative Services, Consumer Protection, Education, and Public Works.

Nerney, who has been blind since birth, plays keyboard and saxophone at his annual lunchtime Christmas concert, which is held in the state office building's cafeteria. Eventually, he hopes to produce a CD of his music and that of some friends, with the proceeds going to Operation Fuel.

Operation Fuel Helps People Who Truly Need It

If it weren't for Operation Fuel, St. Vincent DePaul Place in Middletown would never be able to keep up with the energy assistance needs of all of the families who are struggling to pay their heating bills this winter.

Valarie Smith, outreach coordinator for St. Vincent DePaul, says "Operation Fuel helps so many people who truly are in need and have no where else to go. They save lives... especially the people who fall through the cracks and are not eligible for any government assistance." Smith estimates that since September her office has received nearly 100 calls a month for energy assistance. A typical client of Operation Fuel is a working family who lives paycheck to paycheck but can't qualify for help from the government, explains Smith.

St. Vincent DePaul belongs to Operation Fuel's network of over 100 Connecticut fuel banks, serving the communities of Middletown and Portland. Last year, St. Vincent DePaul of Middletown gave out $73,000 to 223 households.

"Operation Fuel makes all the difference in the world...it's because of them that we've never had to turn away any one who needed emergency energy assistance," said Smith.

A Word from the Executive Director

Dear Friends of Operation Fuel:

We deeply appreciate all of your support over the past year. Thanks to our many generous donors, Operation Fuel gave out a record $6 million in emergency energy assistance to more than 13,000 households.

Now we must look toward meeting new challenges.

Before this winter even had begun, I was worried that this might be the year when we don't have enough money to help all of the thousands of families and elderly who are struggling to pay their heating bills.

Based on preliminary requests to our statewide network of over 100 fuel banks, we expect an even greater need than last year. One in five Connecticut households won't have enough money to pay their energy bills this winter. Many of our recipients are families with young children whose head of house works two low-paying jobs...or the elderly who are living on fixed incomes. We continue to get requests from people who never have needed help before.

With the support of our many donors, we hope that we can meet all of the challenges of 2010. We realize that almost everyone has had to scale back on what they can give. But if everyone who can afford to make a small donation, does so, it will go a long way in keeping every household in Connecticut warm this winter.

It is because of each one of you that Operation Fuel has been providing emergency energy assistance to Connecticut families who are in crisis for the past 33 years. These are households that would have had no where else to turn. Many families and elderly need our help again this winter. Together, we can continue to keep our neighbors warm.

Sincerely,

Spotlight on: Thompson Ecumenical Empowerment Group (TEEG), Thompson, CT

Over the past two years, Stacy Johnson Rodecap says she has seen a steady increase in new clients “as more and more people have gone from lower middle class to unemployed or working a minimum wage job.”

Johnson Rodecap is community services coordinator for Thompson Ecumenical Empowerment Group (TEEG), which serves the towns of Woodstock, Pomfret, Putnam and Thompson. Typically, clients are elderly or working families who can't make ends meet. Energy assistance is one of the many services that they need. She said her agency, which is among Operation Fuel's more than 100 fuel banks, receives over 1,000 calls a year from people requesting energy assistance.

One call last winter was from a man who was requesting energy assistance for his elderly mother. In the past he had paid her fuel bills and supplemented her income. But he recently had lost his job and was unable to pay the bills for either family. “We were able to assist the son through CEAP and his mother through Operation Fuel. We also were able to help the son apply for food stamps and the mother apply for a program that pays her Medicare premium. Neither family had ever sought services through TEEG in the past but we were able to assist them with all of our programs because they weren't too embarrassed to ask for help from Operation Fuel.”

Johnson Rodecap said it is because Operation Fuel provides assistance for a very basic need that clients are more likely to seek help through this program. “Once they walk in the door for fuel assistance, we are able to help them in many other ways. The initial call is usually the hardest to make and Operation Fuel provides an easy way for people -- who would never otherwise ask for the help they need -- to make that first contact.” She adds, “Operation Fuel is a wonderful choice for donors because all of the money they donate is used to assist their fellow community members who need it most.”

Hayes Elected Board Chair; Seven New Members Join

Marilyn Hayes has been elected chairperson of Operation Fuel and seven new board members have been elected. Hayes, who recently retired from the state of Connecticut, Department of Public Utility Control, has been on Operation Fuel's board since 2006.

Returning board members are Joanne Balaschak, New Opportunities of Waterbury; Mark Berns, Palace Fireplace, Pool & Spa; Robert E. Earley, Comcast Cable; Ronald Gregory Sr., St. Andrews Episcopal Church; Michelle Lawson, Connecticut Natural Gas/Southern Connecticut Gas; Lindsay Parke, Northeast Utilities; Carlene Taylor, state of Connecticut, Department of Social Services; Richard Schauster, Empire Industries; and Rick Weiner, town of Greenwich, Department of Social Services
